A black and white line drawing of a globe with various cartoon animals and people around it. The globe is in the center, showing the continents of North and South America. Surrounding the globe are several cartoon characters: a panda at the top left, a baby in a onesie with '60 EARTH HOUR' on it at the top, a bear at the top right, an astronaut at the right, and several fish at the bottom. The characters are all smiling and appear to be celebrating or playing around the Earth.
